Profile

I am from an academic background which bleeds directly into my work and creative flow. During undergraduate and postgraduate, I studied History, Literature, and Linguistics with a special focus on Cultural Anthropology and Interdisciplinary Violence Studies. I graduated with honours, as one of the top students. I take my academic background rather seriously, for I wish to create quality creative work that's grounded in reality, catering to human psychology for a player experience that is memorable and cuts deep into the soul. Currently, I'm a part-time gametester and the Creative Director & Lead Writer at Great Seal Studios.
